Frequently Asked Questions

- Q: When will the new O-Scale "New Generation" couplers be available? A: Hopefully February. We are finalizing our assembly machines.
- Q: Are you going to discontinue the No.5® Coupler? A: No, We have no plans of discontinuing the No.5® Coupler at this time.
- Q: I recently found a "??", What coupler do I use on it? A: Refer to our conversion lists. HO Scale www.kadee.com/conv/holist.pdf
Note: Most new cars the "HO-Scale General Conversion" at the top of the conversion list will apply. Large Scale www.kadee.com/conv/gllist.pdf
- Q: Are you going to make "Scale" Head Couplers in offsets? A: No, Most modelers using "Scale" Head Couplers do so for a better appearance. Offset "Scale" Heads would not gain enough offset to justify with the height of head. If the standard offset was applied the head look really ugly.
- Q: What product do I use in place of one of our discontinued products? A: Refer to our discontinued product web page & look at replacement product. www.kadee.com/htmbord/Discon.htm
- Q: How do I mount a Whisker® coupler in a 30-Series gearbox? A: You can't. You need to use a #252 gearbox instead of the 30-Series gearbox. The #252 gearbox is the 30 series equivalent for all Whisker Couplers.
- Q: What is the difference between code 110 & code 88 wheels? A: The only difference is the width of the wheels. Code 110 wheels are .110 wide & code 88 wheels are .088 wide.
- Q: How can your 2 piece trucks equalize without springs? A: The patented truck frame allows for full wheel equalize and less friction on the axles giving them even better performance then our sprung trucks .

Sam's Corner

Sam the Answer Man: #63 January 2012 "THAT'S RIGHT FUN"

This series is to help answer the many questions about Kadee® products and to provide "Helpful Hints" to modelers using our products.

We hope that all of you have had a very Merry Christmas and are having a great New Year. I'm assuming everyone has practiced writing "2012", you have the next 12 months to get it right. Now you have all the Christmas decorations put away, the New Years party cleaned up, the relatives sent off, and the kids are back in school it's time to get back to some model railroading. With big smiles on our faces, we now get out all our new model railroad stuff and begin a new year of fun and I emphasize the word "FUN". That's right FUN, not just enjoyment but FUN. No matter your level of model railroading this hobby is FUN. If you find that you're not having fun then you need to take a step back and ask why not. I'm sure there are parts of this hobby that you may not enjoy as much as others. It will help greatly to find that fun if you keep focused on the big picture and what you're really trying to accomplish and how it fits into that big picture then develop a sense of pride of what you have accomplished. Building confidence and skills is really enjoyable and fun and is usually a result of hanging in there and just doing it. One of the many things I see some modelers have fun with is "sharing" their enthusiasm, skills, and experience with others. I see a lot of this at train shows where the modelers are interacting with other attendees and especially when they are helping people who are new to the hobby or the smiling kids who are having the time of their lives and I mean having FUN.

We'll be attending the Amherst Train Show at the end of this month, 28th and 29th, in West Springfield, MA where modelers of every level will be buying, selling, looking, visiting, learning, sharing, and having fun. It's one of the biggest shows in the country and has it's own unique style unlike most other shows. Hopefully, after that we'll be attending the World's Greatest Hobby Show in Portland, OR on February 25th and 26th. There are several WGH Shows in various locations around the country and these shows are meant to promote the model railroading hobby and introduce it to kids and adults. These guys usually put on a really good show that helps build interest in this hobby.

Then hopefully if time and costs allow we'll attend the NMRA National Train Show in Grand Rapids, MI in July.

If you are able to attend these shows as well as many others around the country I'm sure if you really tried you'll be able to have a great deal of good old fashioned FUN.

Sam the Answer Man will only be available after 1:00 p.m. PST Mon-Thu to answer your Kadee® related questions.
